JARRETT WINS THE MEDAL

As Best High School Orator In The Debate of 1910.

SCHOOL CLOSED THURS.

Final Exercises At The Tabernacle Attended By Large Crowds.

The annual debate of the Henry Clay debating society of the High School, Wednesday night, was perhaps the best yet held by the society.

The question discussed was "Resolved, that statewide prohibition would benefit Kentucky." The affirmative was represented by John Cate, Coleman Moore and Charles Jarrett; the negative by Summers Cooper, Robert Dabney and Bentley Rudd.

Frank Stites presided and introduced the speakers in a few graceful remarks.

The Judges were Rev. Geo. C. Abbott, Prof. H. G. Brownell, and Prof. C. W. Richards, Superintendent of the Princeton Schools.

They awarded the decision to the affirmative and the oratorical Medal to Chas. Jarrett.

The presentation was made by Prof. Richards, who took occasion to compliment Hopkinsville, the schools, the young debaters and their superintendent, Prof. Hamlett, who was referred to as "the next Superintendent of Public Instruction."

The exercises were very successful and the debate one of unusual interest. The young men acquitted themselves with great credit, the judges having a difficult task before them to decide the questions submitted.

Charles P. Jarrett, the winner of the medal as the best debater, is a son of Mr. Chas. S. Jarrett and possesses a deep, strong voice and has acquired many of the graces of genuine oratory. He is only 16 years of age but a member of class of 1912. He is a very bright and promising young man, having played tackle on the champion foot ball team of W. Ky. That the decision was a popular one was evidenced by the prolonged applause that greeted the announcement of the decision. The debaters and their "best girls" will be given a dinner by the successful champion at the handsome home of his parents on Walnut street Monday night, at which Oglesby Soyars will be the toastmaster.

MRS. CASSANDRA LEWIS

Widow of the Late M. Lewis Is Dead.

Mrs. Cassandra Lewis, widow of the late Mt. Zion Lewis, died Wednesday night, in the 80th year of her age. She was ill only a few days and death was caused from flux.

Mrs. Lewis was a member of the Christian Church. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. P. M. Owen, who resides about two miles south of the city. The interment took place Thursday afternoon in the family burying ground four miles north of the city.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOOTS A MAN

Officer Wounds Jesse Moore In Self Defense at Mannington.

WOUND NOT SERIOUS.

Warrant Issued For Moore's Arrest by County Judge.

Deputy Sheriff Fairleigh Wilkins shot and wounded Jesse Moore, at Mannington, Thursday afternoon. Moore was shot in the hip and the wound is not considered a very serious one.

A negro picnic was given at Mannington on Thursday and the management, fearing that there might be some disturbance during the day, asked that an officer be sent there to see that order was kept. Mr. Wilkins, who was sworn in last week as a special deputy during this term of circuit court, was detailed for the work and went to the village Thursday morning. Moore, who lives at Mannington, fired his pistol into a crowd at a saloon, but no one was struck. Officer Wilkins was quickly on the spot but Moore denied having fired the shot and the matter was passed for the time being. Not long after this occurred, and while the officer was at the station waiting for his train on which to return home, a negro was seen running rapidly towards the depot and Moore was in pursuit, firing on the man as he ran. Wilkins commanded Moore to surrender, but the latter began shooting at the officer, firing three or four shots, without effect. Wilkins returned the fire and one shot took effect in Moore's hip. The latter was taken to his home and given medical attention.

The officer returned to the city and surrendered to the sheriff. After an immediate investigation he was released and a warrant was issued for Moore's arrest.

Points About People

FOLK—Former Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, not only is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, but he believes the best way to catch the presidential nomination bird is to sprinkle publicity salt on its tail.

A publicity bureau in the interest of former Governor Folk has just been established at the national capital. Harry Walker, one of the best known and most popular of eastern newspaper men, will have charge and see that the Missouri reformer does not lack publicity in his quest for the big political game.

JARRETT—It is quite likely that Chas. Jarrett, Jr., whose oration in favor of statewide prohibition won the oratorical medal Wednesday evening, may go to Bowling Green to take part in the prohibition campaign now nearing a close in that city. His friends who heard his splendid speech have advised him to tender his services to the dry side. Though a boy of 16, he has prepared and delivered with real oratorical power a speech that is strong and convincing, a much better argument than many professional speakers can make. If the Bowling Green people want a "Boy Orator" to close their campaign they can find him in Hopkinsville.

Sewer Being Laid.

An 18 inch sewer pipe is being laid on the east side of Main street, from Ninth to Twelfth streets, to relieve the surface drainage. The pipes were being put in yesterday between Ninth and Tenth.

K.E.A. MEETING IN HENDERSON

Thirty-ninth Annual Meeting to Be Held Next Week.

JUNE 21 TO 23 INCLUSIVE

Extensive Preparations Being Made to Entertain the Visitors.

A large delegation of teachers from this county will attend the Kentucky Educational Association at Henderson June 21 to 23. The occasion will be the thirty-ninth annual meeting of the state organization and many teachers, school officers and other persons interested in education from all over the state will attend and take part in the proceedings. Not only does the teacher get the inspiration and instruction of the association by attending the meeting, but he or she receives a free copy of the published proceedings, all the bulletins, reports and announcements that keep the recipient in touch with educational movements in the state.

Henderson has promised the executive committee abundant hotel accommodations at moderate prices and the railroads have granted a special round trip rate of one-half fare, plus 25 cents from all points in Kentucky. The best hotels will charge only $2 per day, other hostleries $1.50 per day; private boarding at $1 per day.

More than one thousand teachers are expected on the occasion.

"WENT WET"

Judge Benton So Decides the Nicholasville Election.

Nicholasville, Ky., June 15—Judge J. M. Bennett, in circuit court today rendered a decision in the matter of the local option contest case. He affirmed the decision of the contest board in sustaining the election.

PROPERTY IN CHRISTIAN

Disposed of By Will of Californian.

The will of Mrs. Emma Crockett, who died in Fruitdale, Cal., was filed here yesterday for probate. She directed that her homestead be sold and her two-thirds interest be divided equally between her two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Grimwood, Kate Ritter, and niece, Mrs. Carrie Gamble, of Sacramento, Cal. As sole owner of about twelve acres of land near Hopkinsville, she directed that same be sold as quickly as possible and the proceeds deposited in bank at interest, to be divided equally between her two grand nieces, Katherine and Miriam Gamble, as soon as they become of age.

All the personal property is left to her sisters, mentioned above. The will was written June 7, 1909. A. D. Grimwood is named as executor and the two sisters of the deceased are to look after the distribution of the personal effects without legal process.

MUTILATE BALLOTS

Half of Tickets Ready For Use Discovered Marked "Wet" By Clerk.

Hawesville, Ky., June 14.—Unknown culprits went through a window of the county clerk's office last night and marked the ballots of more than half the precincts in the county, which are to be used in the local option election on June 16, as if they had been voted "wet."

County Clerk Ed LaMar discovered the queer prank this morning when giving out the ballots and ballot boxes to the election officers. He has taken steps to have new ballots printed and will have them in ample time. He is greatly mystified over the strange effort at defacing the ballots and offers a reward of $25 for information that will identify the culprit.
